index.html rendered with browser default styles (full page)

- Landmarks. header, nav, main and footer give screen readers and search engines a clear page map.
- Labelled regions. Each section points to its heading with `aria-labelledby`; each of the four nav elements has a distinct `aria-label`.
- Heading order. One `h1` for the site, `h2` for each section and footer column, `h3` for products. No levels are skipped.
- Products as articles. Each product card is a self-contained article; prices use `<data value>` so they stay machine-readable.
- Accessible forms. Every input has a matching `<label for>`; email and consent are required; autocomplete hints are set.
- Contact info. Store contact details sit in an `<address>` element inside the footer.
